SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSES AND
OBJECTIONS TO PLAINTIFF’S
INTERROGATORIES, SET 5 (NOS. 26 – 37)

21 Dept. Courtroom 8, 19th Fl.
Judge: Hon. William Alsup

HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY[BEGIN HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY MATERIAL HERE]*INTERROGATORY NO. 37:

Identify all licenses GOOGLE has taken in connection with the development or release of any version of ANDROID.

FIRST SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE TO INTERROGATORY NO. 37:

In addition to its General Objections, Google objects to this Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous as to the phrases “licenses Google has taken,” “in connection with,” “development or release,” “any version of Android,” and “Android.” Google also objects to this Interrogatory as overly broad, unduly burdensome, not relevant to any claim or defense in this lawsuit, and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence to the extent that it seeks information related to operations of Google outside of the United States having no connection with the United States, and to the extent that it seeks information unrelated to the copyright infringement allegations set forth in Plaintiff’s Amended and Supplemental Complaints. Google further objects to this Interrogatory as improperly compound and containing multiple distinct sub-parts. Google further objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it attempts to reopen discovery on issues, events, transactions, and/or occurrences that could have, and should have been addressed, if at all, prior to the original trial.

Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections and the General Objections, and to the extent that Google understands this interrogatory, Google states that Android uses approved open source licenses, as well as receives contributions via Contributor License Agreements. See <https://source.android.com/source/licenses.html>.

Google further states that it is developing Android versions using OpenJDK, which is a free and open source implementation of the Java Platform, Standard Edition (Java SE) and is made available under the GNU General Public License, version 2 (GPLv2), with the Classpath Exception.
